

HOW THE COMPROMISE PASSED.

A committee asked us to print the vote on the passage of the compromise. The facts in relation to that vote are as follows: The important facts are embodied in the following table for the people in the Louisville Democrat. Let them all be remembered. Let it be noted before the people.

That twenty-six northern democrats and only three southern voted for the fugitive slave law.

That thirty-seven northern democrats and only seven southern voted for the compromise measures as a "final adjustment."

That if the resolution declaring the compromise a final adjustment of the questions therein embraced had been determined by the joint votes of the northern and southern democrats, it would have been sustained by seventy-four ayes and thirty-three nays; if it had been lost by thirty-seven ayes to thirty-one nays.

That the democratic party is the real UNION party. Thus the democratic candidate, Gen. Pierce was the choice of the compromise men in the convention, and was nominated by the unanimous vote.

That the whig candidate, Gen. Scott, was the choice of the abolitionists in the convention, and was nominated by the votes of the abolitionists.

That Gen. Pierce accepted the nomination upon the platform adopted by the convention, not because it was expected of him as a candidate, but because the principles of freedom (compromise resolutions included) command the approbation of his judgment.

That Gen. Scott accepted the nomination with the resolutions annexed, because he could not obtain it without.

That the abolitionists are continually abusing Gen. Pierce for his pro-slavery principles.

That Gen. Scott is the favorite of the abolitionists, and they are moving heaven and earth to procure his election.

The Douglass Slave.—We referred a few days since to the accusation made against the soundsness of Gen. Pierce on the slavery question. A similar charge has been made in relation to Gen. Scott's following high authority. A correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer writes from Ravenna, Ohio, on the 10th July, that the night before "Hon. D. R. Tilden, a treasurer, addressed the Socio Club, and read a letter just received from B. E. Wade, Whig United States Senator at Washington, in which said Wade writes:

"I have had a conversation with Gen. Scott, in which he declared he would sooner cut off his right hand than lend it to the support of slavery."—Southern Press.
